I wish you wouldnt take it so hard; I cant help it; you know its impossible for people to make themselves love other people if they dont, cried Jo, inelegantly but remorsefully, as she softly patted his shoulder, remembering the time when he had comforted her so long ago. They do sometimes, said a muffled voice from the post. I dont believe its the right sort of love, and Id rather not try it, was the decided answer. There was a long pause, while a blackbird sung blithely on the willow by the river, and the tall grass rustled in the wind. Presently Jo said, very soberly, as she sat down on the step of the stile, --Laurie, I want to tell you something. He started as if he had been shot, threw up his head, and cried out, in a fierce tone, --Dont tell me...
