In the lines offered regularly by Dunwoody in straight trade training, the men will go on the regular basis of $3 entrance fee for resident students and no tuition, and for nonresident students will follow the schedule of tuition sent in recently to the central office. 3. The Dunwoody will run ungraded classes, try-out courses in mechanical lines, and are willing to try some simple commercial work of a try-out nature. At the present time they are reducing their force preparing to closing in the summer, hence the sooner definite arrangements can be made with them the better it will be for all concerned. Men are being placed at Dunwoody Institute for training in accordance with these arrangements and at fees in accordance with paragraphs numbered III and IV above. The Chairman....
