That is, a Scout should be prepared at all times to give people any kind of service that may be needed if he is old enough to give it. When an accident occurs, a good Scout does not run away or become a helpless spectator. He knows how to give first aid and to help in other ways. At parades and large gatherings of people he helps the police tO From an American Red Cross photograph handle the crowds. Toys And Clothing Made By Junior Red Cross Children For Children Abroad In the cities during important conventions he acts as guide for the strangers. He learns to know the birds and flowers and trees and to care for them. There are many other ways in which the Scout learns to be of service. The good Scout does a good turn every day. That is, he does an act of helpfulness every day to somebody for which he is not paid. Every Scout makes a promise which Girl Scouts Distributing Flowers And Fruit In A Foundling Hospital is good enough for every boy and girl and every man and woman to make. It is called the Scout Oath. It is as follows: On my honor I will do my best--1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout law; 2. To help other people at all times; 3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight....
